What is the Orange County Transportation Authority?

OCTA is a countywide transportation agency that works with state and local officials, community groups, businesses and other regional transportation agencies to coordinate a unified effort to identify, fund and implement local transportation solutions. OCTA is governed by a 17-member Board of Directors composed of the five county supervisors, city council representatives from across the county and two public members. Transportation plays a large role in Orange County's quality of life and economy. OCTA is involved in all aspects of providing a comprehensive transportation system for Orange County commuters, including:

- Running the nation's 12th busiest bus system
- Widening freeways
- Improving streets and highways
- Synchronizing traffic lights
- Funding Metrolink commuter-rail service
- Operating the 91 Express Lanes
- Developing and implementing long-range transportation solutions

Responsibilities of the OCTA Citizens Advisory Committee

OCTA's Citizens Advisory Committee members actively participate in helping to examine traffic solutions, providing input to OCTA's transportation studies and communicating with their constituencies. During the year, committee members are asked to participate in ad hoc committees, in roundtable discussions and hear special presentations on various transportation projects, programs and services. This is an unpaid volunteer position, and meetings adhere to the Brown Act. The committee's responsibilities include:

- Identify opportunities for community input
- Recommend mechanisms and methodologies for obtaining public opinion on specific transportation issues
- Serve as a liaison between the public and OCTA
