

RIVERSIDE FREEWAY SR-91 Improvement Project

The Riverside Freeway (SR-91) serves as a major commuting route connecting Orange County with Riverside and Los Angeles counties. SR-91 is also one of the most congested freeways in Southern California.

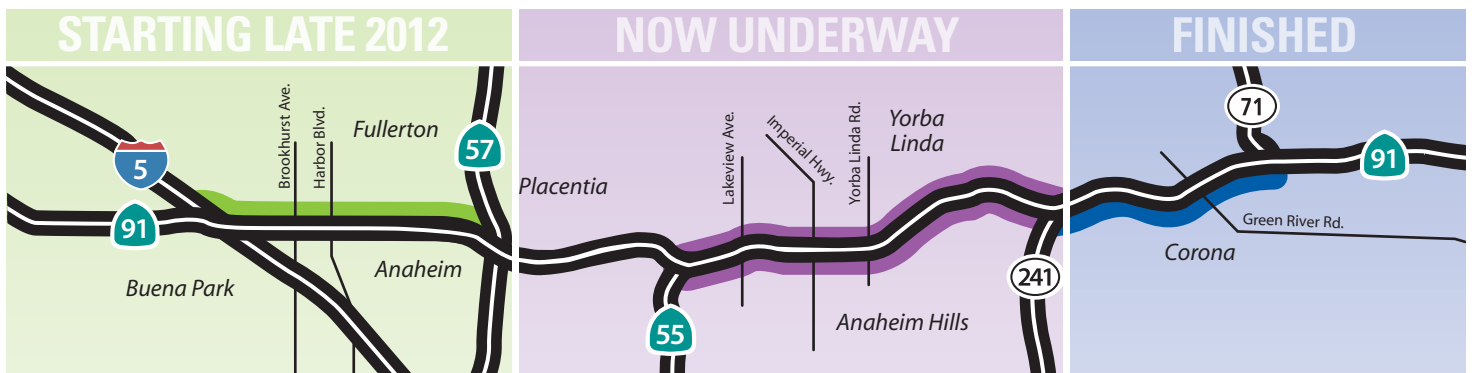

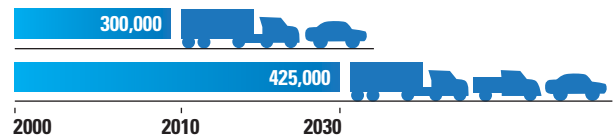

To improve traffic flow along SR-91 between the Santa Ana Freeway (I-5) in Buena Park and the Corona Freeway (SR-71) in Corona, the Orange County Transportation Authority (OCTA), Caltrans District 12 and the Riverside County Transportation Commission (RCTC) are working together to add new lanes to SR-91.

Overall Benefits:

- Add new lanes to increase capacity at key points between I-5 and SR-71
- Improve flow of traffic on SR-91 throughout this 22-mile stretch
- Improve driving operations and enhance safety

Traffic Projection for SR-91

Vehicles Per Day

Project 1

SR-91 Westbound Lane Addition:

I-5 to SR-57 (OCTA)

Late 2012-Late 2015

Environmental Phase – Finished 2010

Design Phase – Completed in 2011/2012

Current Project Status:

Westbound Lane Addition

Design Phase

Project 2

Westbound and Eastbound Lane Widening:

SR-55 to SR-241 (Caltrans)

2011-2013

Environmental/Pre-Design Phase – Finished 2009

Groundbreaking – August 22, 2011

Construction Completion – Early 2013

Current Project Status:

Westbound and Eastbound Lane Widening

Under Construction

Project 3

New Eastbound Lane Addition:

SR-241 to SR-71 (OCTA)

Fall 2009-2011

Design Phase – Finished 2009

Groundbreaking – Nov. 3, 2009

Completion – Finished Dec. 2, 2010

Current Project Status:

Eastbound Lane Addition

Complete

Funding: Orange County voter-approved Measure M funds are hard at work on these projects. Other funding includes State Proposition 1B, 91 Express Lanes Toll Revenues, State Transportation Improvement Funds (STIP), Corridor Mobility Account Funds (CMIA) and American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 Funds (ARRA).

Your Contacts: Contact Fernando Chavarria, Outreach Manager for "A Better 91," at 714-560-5306 or the Transportation Helpline at (800) 724-0353. Visit www.octa.net for the latest project information, schedules, community meetings and to add your name to the project's database. For the latest project updates, follow us on Twitter, @91fwy.

Orange County Transportation Authority

Last updated January 5, 2012