

Social Media Post Copy Options

— Measure M 15 Years —

Fifteen years ago, Orange County voters chose to continue investing locally in transportation by renewing a half-cent sales tax. That investment continues to transform the county, delivering improvements that keep pace with significant growth while preparing for the future. See how Measure M has enhanced regional mobility: octa.net/MeasureM15

Thanks to Measure M, Orange County has the best streets in the state, and each city decides how to maintain them through the Local Fair Share Program. See some of the ways Measure M has benefitted Orange County in the past 15 years: octa.net/MeasureM15

Fifteen years ago, Orange County voters chose to renew Measure M, a half-cent sales tax for transportation improvements. Since then, Measure M has improved freeways, reduced congestion, and expanded travel options across Orange County, with more to come. We're halfway there and committed through 2041: octa.net/MeasureM15

Transportation is more than getting from place to place – it's staying connected. In the past 15 years, Measure M has helped provide more than 171 million bus boardings for seniors and people with disabilities through reduced bus fares and specialized services. See the other ways Measure M has enhanced everyday life in Orange County: octa.net/MeasureM15

From new lanes to upgraded ramps and new bridges to walkways and bikeways, everyone benefits from the projects that are made possible through Measure M. See how Measure M has enhanced everyday life in Orange County: octa.net/MeasureM15

Measure M supports the Freeway Service Patrol Program, which has provided more than 874,000 services to motorists along Orange County's freeways over the past 15 years. Tow operators can help change a flat tire, provide gas, and other support to drivers stranded at the side of the freeway. See the other ways Measure M has enhanced everyday life in Orange County: octa.net/MeasureM15